THE CLOSING SCENE.

BY THOMAS BUCHANAN READ.

The following is pronounced by the "Westminster Review" to be unquestionably the finest American poem ever written:

Within the sober realms of leafless trees,
The russet year inhaled the dreamy air,
Like some tanned reaper in his hour of ease,
When all the fields are lying brown and bare.

The gray barns looking from their hazy hills,
O'er the dun waters winding in the vales,
Sent down the air a greeting to the hills,
On the dull thunder of alternate flails.

All sights were mellowed, and all sounds subdued,
The hills seemed further and the stream sang low,
As in a dream the distant woodman hewed
His wintry log, with many a muffled blow.

The embattled forests, erowhile armed with gold,
Their banners bright with every martial hue,
Now stood like some sad, beaten host of old,
Withdrawn afar in Time's remotest blue.

On sombre wings the vulture tried his flight;
The dove scarce heard his sighing mate's complaint;
And, like a star slow drowning in the light,
The village church vane seemed to pale and faint.

The sentinel cock upon the hill-side crew—
Crew thrice—and all was stiller than before;
Silent, till some relying warder blew
His allon horn, and then was heard no more.

Where erst the jay, within the elm's tall crest,
Made garrulous trouble round her unfledged young;
And where the oriole hung her swaying nest,
By every light wind like a censer swung,

Where sang the noisy martins of the eaves,
The busy swallows circling ever near—
Foreboding, as the rustic mind believes,
An early harvest and a plenteous year.

Where every bird that waked the vernal feast,
Shook the sweet slumber from its wings at morn
To warn the reaper of the rosy last;
All now was sunless, empty and forlorn.

Alone, from out the stubble, piped the quail;
And crooked the crow through all the dreary gloom;
Alone, the pheasant, drumming in the vale,
Made echo to the distant cottage loom.

There was no bud, no bloom upon the bowers;
The spiders moved their thin shrouds night by night,
The thistle down, the only ghost of flowers,
Sailed slowly by—passed noiseless out of sight.

Amid all this—in this most dreary air,
And where the woodbine shed upon the porch
Its crimson leaves, as if the year stood there,
Firing the door with its inverted torch.

Amid all this, the centre of the scene,
The white-haired matron with monotonous tread,
Plied the swift wheel, and with her joyous mein
Sat like a fate, and watched the flying thread.

She had known sorrow. He had walked with her,
Oft supped, and broke with her the ashen crust,
And in the dead leaves still she heard the stir,
Of his thick mantle trailing in the dust.

While yet her cheek was bright with summer bloom,
Her country summoned and she gave her all;
And twice war bowed to her in sable plume—
Re-gave the sword to rust upon the wall.

Re-gave the sword, but not the hand that drew
And struck for liberty the dying blow;
Nor him who, to his sire and country true,
Fell mid the ranks of the invading foe.

Long, but not loud, the drooping wheel went on,
Like the low murmur of a hive at noon;
Long but not loud, the memory of the gone
Breathed through her lips a sad and tremulous tune.

At last the thread was snapped—her hand was bowed,
Life dropped the distaff through her hands serene;
And loving neighbors smoothed her careful shroud;
While death and winter closed the autumn scene.

Women as Peace-Makers.

They are rightly termed, writes a lady, "the gentler sex." Their sensibilities are quicker and deeper than those of men; they know better how to sympathise in the joys and sorrows of others; they live on the sweet and hallowed reciprocities of affection; and all their influence comes not from terror and violence, or even authority, but from goodness, from kind offices, from the resistless power of love. Theirs is the empire of the heart. They wield no sword; they threaten no violence; they claim little authority; they seldom insist even on their acknowledged rights; and yet they exert their full share of influence in every department of society, and silently move unseen the hands that sway the world. They rule by obedience; they conquer by retreat; they triumph by submission; they carry nearly all their points by insisting strenuously on none. Such a temper is the spirit of peace; such a character an embodiment of principles; and the result is a decisive illustration of their power. Women, if not disposed, are compelled to adopt the policy of peace; and their general success proves the superiority of moral over physical power, the efficacy of returning good for evil, and giving the other cheek to the smiter. Their nature, their training, their condition, and relations in life, all conspire to render them peace-makers, and peculiarly fit them for co-operation in this cause. Women may, if they will, perform for this cause, services which no others can. They are the mothers of men, and leave on their children an indelible impress of themselves. The hand which rocks the cradle will be found, in the end, to rule the world; the voice which whispers in the infant and youthful ear lessons of truth or error, of goodness or guilt, will yet give tone to morals, law to society, and character to the whole human race. We must win the young to peace, and their character is necessarily moulded almost entirely by female hands. As mothers and teachers, they are the chief educators of mankind.

A NATURAL CURIOSITY.—In a cave in the Virtud, in the Southern part of the department of Choluteca, Honduras, there is a natural curiosity, called the "Fountain of Blood." This fountain consists of a stream of fluid resembling blood, which drops steadily from the roof of the cave upon the floor beneath. It forms pools of congulated matter upon the floor, and imparts its color to a small brook which flows from the cave. The liquid has not only the color, but the taste and smell of blood, and when exposed to the air for a short time emits a very offensive odor. No satisfactory analysis has been made of it, and various theories have been advanced concerning it.

DEAD BROKE.

BY THE "PAT CONTRIBUTOR."

We found a man seated on a curbstone, near the post office, last night, muttering to himself apparently, as there was no one to mutter to. We felt constrained to ask him what he was doing there.

'Raint doin' nothin',' was the reply.

'Where do you belong?'

'Don't b'long nowhere, and nowhere don't b'long to me.'

'Who are you?'

'I'm Broke.'

'Well, suppose you are broke, you've got a name, haven't you? What is it?'

'I tell ye I'm Broke—Dead Broke—that's my name, and that's my natur. My father was Broke before me. If he hadn't been I wouldn't be Broke now—at least not so bad. My mother was a Peaseley, but she wanted a husband and she got Broke—that's my dad—and Broke got me. I've been Broke ever since.'

For a few moments the unhappy D. Broke buried his face in his hands, and seemed lost in the most doleful reflections. Then, raising his head, he exclaimed bitterly:

'I wish I had been born a colt!'

'Why do you wish you had been born a colt?'

'Because a colt aint broke until he is two or three years old. I was Broke the moment I saw the light, and I never got over it. It is bad to be broke so young.'

'How did your parents come to call you Dead Broke?'

'Well, ye see, as soon as I was born something seemed to tell me that I had got to be Broke on full my life, unless I could get my name changed by act of Legislature, and that, you know, would be an impossibility.'

'How an impossibility.'

'Are you such a blockhead as to suppose that a man can get anything through the Legislature when he is broke?'

'You are right. Go on.'

'When the conviction forced itself upon my infant brain, confused as it was by recent experiences, that I must be Broke all my life, I lost all consciousness at once. (I have found only part of it since.)'

'He is dead!' cried my mother, wringing her hands.

'Yes,' groaned my father, he is dead Broke!'

'I revived, alas! but Dead Broke became my name, and I have been dead broke ever since.'

'My name has been fatal to me all through life. The smallest boy in school always broke me in playing marbles. I broke more windows than any other boy in base ball. I always broke down at recitations, and had my head broke every day by the schoolmaster. When I left school I went to clerk it for a broker. One day there was a heavy deficit in the accounts. I was afraid he might think that I had something to do with it, so I—I broke. They caught me, though, and put me in jail, but I broke out.'

'Out of jail?'

'No, d—n it, broke out with the small pox!'

'What did you do next?'

'After the court had disposed of my case, I was allowed to go into the brokerage business again.'

'How was that?'

'I broke stone in the penitentiary, dog on it! After I got out, I broke everything. I broke my promise, broke the Sabbath, and broke the pledge.'

'Were you ever married?'

'Yes (sighing deeply.) Matrimony broke me up worse than anything else. My wife was a regular ripper. She broke up my furniture and the dishes, nearly broke my back with a flat-iron, and finally broke my heart.'

'By running away?'

'No, indeed, by sticking to me.'

'You have had a hard time of it.'

'All owing to my name. But bad as I dislike it, it's mine; I came by it honestly. You wouldn't think anybody else would want to be in my place, would ye? but there are thousands of impostors all over the country, trying to pass themselves off for me.'

'In what way?'

'When they tell their creditors that they are 'Dead Broke.'

There was another pause, during which the unhappy possessor of an unfortunate name could be heard to sob. At length he broke out—

'It will be a simple and fitting inscription for my tombstone, though.'

'What?'

'DEAD BROKE.'

RIGHT KIND OF PREACHING.—Dr. Gilly related the following anecdote, which was told by a well known Irish character, Thaddeus Connolly, who used to spend most of his time visiting the poorer classes in Ireland, and instructing them in their native language: "I went," said he, "one Sunday into a church to which a new incumbent had been lately appointed. The congregation did not exceed half a dozen, but the preacher delivered himself with as much energy and affection as if he were addressing a crowded audience. After the service, I expressed my wonder that he should preach so well to such a small number of people. 'Were there but one,' said the preacher, 'my anxiety for his improvement would make me equally energetic.' The following year Connolly went into the same church; the congregation was multiplied twenty-fold; the third year the church was full.

An Expensive Dinner.

Some years ago, when the "Hen Fever" was raging all over the country, a gentleman residing in the suburbs of Philadelphia, came to the city one morning to attend a "Hen Fair," where he purchased a very large and beautiful pair of Shanghai fowls to breed from; and, as he was to remain in town until evening, he sent the birds by a boy, with a note to a friend of his, living in Arch street, requesting that he would take charge of the chickens until the afternoon, as he had some matters of business that would detain him; he also told the boy to say that he would dine with him at four o'clock.

The boy delivered the fowls, but forgot the note, and simply remarked: "Here's a pair of rousing big chickens Mr. M. has sent you, and says he will dine with you at four o'clock."

The gentleman supposing his friend (who by the way, knows a hawk from a handsaw, and a canvass-back from a broiled owl) had sent him something extra, ordered them to be given to the cook, with directions that they be killed and dressed at once, as he had a friend to dine with him at four that P. M.

The order was accordingly obeyed, and at the appointed time the dinner was served.

After imbibing sundry wine-bitters as a sharpener to their appetites, they sat down, and the Shanghai owner was requested to carve; and as he proceeded to dissect these enormous cuts members of the Hen Convention, he remarked to his friend:—"You have an extraordinary fine pair of chickens here?"

"Yes," answered the other, "they ARE an indifferently good sized pair of birds; they were sent to me by a mutual friend of ours."

"Indeed, were they? A devilish clever fellow he must be, Jim; a very pretty present this, and I declare they are the most delicious flavor I ever tasted, and as juicy, too, as a canvass back."

And so he continued praising the chickens until after they had taken care of a couple of bottles of Schreider; and while chattering over their bottle of sherry, and enjoying their regalias, the owner of the Shanghais said:—"By-the-by, Jim what did you think of my hen-purchase this morning?"

"Why, Bill, I think they were the most delicious birds ever served, and I wish you would dine with me every day in the week, if you will send me such chickens."

"Such chickens!" screeched Bill, as the thought flashed across his mind that he might possibly have been eating his own Shanghais. "What the devil do you mean?"

"Mean," replied Jim; "why, I mean to say that you have dined off those chickens you sent me this morning!"

Bill instantly jumped up from the table, and rammed his hands up to his elbows in his breeches pockets, and after striding across the room some half-dozen times, without uttering a word, but his eyes all the while in "fine frenzy rolling," stopped short, and turning to his friend, he exclaimed, with terrific gesticulation: "My God! Jim, I PAID THIRTY FIVE DOLLARS FOR THAT PAIR OF FOWLS this morning! Didn't that cussed boy give you a note this morning, when he left the chickens?"

"No," said Jim, "he gave me no note; he simply handed me the Shanghais, and said you would dine with me at four. Therefore I had them ROASTED."

Bill instantly rushed for his horse and wagon, and was not seen in the city but once for a year afterwards, and then he was closely muffled up, and both ears stopped up with cotton, for fear he should hear some one cry out—SHANGHAI.

THE WIFE.—Only let a woman be sure that she is precious to her husband—not useful, not valuable, not convenient simply, but lovely and beloved; let her be the recipient of his polite and hearty attention, let her feel that her care and love are noticed, appreciated and returned, let her opinion be asked, her approval sought, and her judgment respected in matters of which she is cognizant; in short, let her only be loved, honored, and cherished, in fulfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband, her children and society a wellspring of pleasure. She will bear pain, and toil and anxiety, for her husband's love is to her a tower and fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein, adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy will dull the edge of sorrow. A house with love in it—and by love I mean love expressed in words, and looks, and deeds, for I have not one spark of faith in love that never crops out—is to a house without love, as a person to a machine; one is life, the other is a mechanism—the unloved woman may have bread just as light, a house just as tidy as the other, but the latter has aspring of beauty about her, a joyousness, an aggressive, penetrating, and pervading brightness to which the former is a stranger. The deep happiness in her heart shines out in her face. She gleams over it. It is airy, and graceful, and warm and welcoming with her presence; she is full of devices and plots, and sweet surprise for husband and family. She has never done with the romance and poetry of life. She herself is a lyric poem setting herself to all pure and gracious melodies. Humble household ways and duties have for her a golden significance. The prize makes her calling high, and the end sanctifies the means. "Love is Heaven, and Heaven is Love."

Shugar in Their'n.

In these times of temperance agitation we publish the following short and pertinent sermon:

"There's nine men a standin' at the door, an' they all sed they'd take shugar in their'n."

Sich, frends and brethren, was the talk, in a worldly sense, onst common in this our ausbient land; but the days is gone by, and the sans run dry, and no man can say to his nabur, hoo art thou, man, and will you take any mor shugar in your caughfey?

But the wurds of our tex has a different and a more portikler meanin than this. There they stood at the door on a cool winter's mornin, two Baptists, two Methodists, and five Lutharians, and the tother one was a publikin. And they all with one vois said they wouldn't dirty their feet in a dramshop, but if the publikin would go and get the drinks they'd pay for 'em. And they all cried out, and every man sed, "I'll take mine with shugar, for it won't feel good to drink the stuff without sweetenin." So the publikin he marched in, and the barkeeper sed, "What want ye?" and he answered and sed, "A drink." "How will ye have it?" "Plane and strate," sez he, "for it aint no use wastin' shugar to circumsalivate a kofortis. But there's nine more a standin' at the door, and they all sed they'd take shugar in their'n."

Friends and brethren, it ain't only likker of spirits that is drunk in this roundabout and underhand way, but it's the likker of all sorts of human wickedness in like manner. There's the likker of malice, that many of them drinks to the dregs, that are sure to sweetin it with the shugar of self-justification. There's the likker of avariss that sum keeps behind the curtin for constant use, but they always have it well mixed with the sweetenin of prudens and economy. There's the likker of self-love that sum mon drinks by the gallon, but they always puts in lots of the shugar to take keer of No. 1. And lastly, there's the likker of extorshun, which the man sweetens accordin' to circumstances. If he's in the flour line, he'll say the poor'll be better off eatin' corn bread; if he's in the cloth line, why, it's a good thing to learn 'em to 'make their cloth at home;' if he's in the leather line, it'll learn 'em the necessity of takin better keer of shoes.

And there's nine men standin' at the door, and they all sed they'd take shugar in their'n. But friends and brethren, there's a time comin' and a place fixin', where there'll be no "standin' at the door" to call for shugar in their'n. But they'll have to go rite in and take the drink square up to the front; and the barkeeper will be old Satan, and nobody else; and he'll give 'em "shugar in their'n" you'd better believe it, and it'll be shugar of lead, and red hot lead at that, you sure as your name is Consbunce Dodger. And you will be entitled to your rations three times a day, if not more frequenter; and if you don't like it you'll have to lump it, and so may the old Nick close down upon all your silk palavering around the plane old pool of brotherly luv and ginerosity and feller-feeling and fare-play. Amen.

☞Who, having lost a mother by death cannot appreciate the following beautiful sentiment, which we find floating about on the vast sea of newspaperdom:

The Memory of a Mother.—When temptations assail you, and when you are almost persuaded to do wrong, how often a dear mother's word of warning will call to mind vows that are rarely broken! Yes, the memory of a mother has saved many a poor wretch from going astray. Tall grass may be grown over the hallowed spot where her earthly remains repose; the dying leaves of autumn may be whirled over them, or the white mantle of winter may cover them from sight; yet her spirit appears when he walks in the night path, and gently, softly, mournfully calls for him when wandering off into the ways of error.

☞Base ball has been carried over to the Sandwich Islands. A game was played some time since between two nines composed of natives, during which some very queer antics were indulged in, so it is said. A player finding it impossible to reach his base, was determined not to be put out, and started up the town at full speed, closely followed by the baseman. The latter, after a short chase, finding himself falling behind, mounted a horse near by, and thus overtook the player. After this little deviation from the rules they returned to the grounds, and the game went on as before.

☞A Bridgeport newsboy was given a ten cent stamp by a gentleman a day or two ago, in consideration of his not swearing for a week, and more promised him at the end of that time if he kept his promise. After receiving the money the boy said: "I understand that I must not swear; but how in h—l are you going to know whether I do or not?"

☞An editor wrote a leading article on the fair sex, in the course of which he said: "Girls of seventeen or eighteen are fond of beaus." When the paper was issued, he was rather shocked to discover that an unfortunate typographical error had made him say, "Girls of seventeen or eighteen are fond of beans." He had better use the French plural (beaux) hereafter.

MEMORANDUM FOR TEDIOUS BEAUX.—N. P. Willis once said, in private conversation, that a woman would tire of Phœbus Apollo himself if the young man hung about the house all the time. Young men, be careful.

☞A young Preacher, who had just started on his travels as an itinerant, was one evening holding forth on the Deluge, and after describing the manner in which Noah built the Ark, and filled it with animals of every kind, by pairs, closed in a solemn tone, thus:—"You must know, my dear hearers, that it was an arduous task for Noah and his sons to get a pair of Whales into the Ark!"

Wednesday morning, Sept. 11, 1867.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

☞The Lancaster County Republican Delegate Convention met last week, but instead of putting in nomination a county ticket, adopted the Crawford County system and ordered an election. This change in the strong-hold of the Republican party, shows that the masses of the party are determined to defeat the corruptionists and place in office men only who are worthy of support.

☞The situation at Washington is still of exciting interest. Grant was obliged to acquiesce to the "superior force" of the President's logic, as did Stanton before him. The President is master of the situation, until Congress meets in November. The Radical journals are berating their members roundly for not meeting the question squarely and depriving A. J. of the power he is now using. They regret that Congress adjourned, and they lament still more that that body adjourned without getting rid of the greatest obstacle in the way of their plan of reconstruction. Does it not look exceedingly farcical that Congress convened to make three supplementary laws to the original reconstruction act, just on the President's account, and then adjourned without accomplishing what they sought? November next will develop some happy scenes in and about Washington.

☞The Radical journals assert that it is not the intention of the leaders of their party to force negro suffrage on the Northern States. If they do not, it will be because they see no use in running the risk of losing their party prestige, which is not the case in the South, where the white men to a great extent are disfranchised and all negroes over twenty-one are enfranchised without regard to qualifications. If negro suffrage is forced on the North it will be no greater infringement of the Constitution than has already been committed toward the South. The case stands thus: If the Radicals think they can strengthen their party by giving Northern negroes a vote, they will do it in spite of everything, but if they do not, then they will not. It is not so much their love for the darkey that induces them to give him a vote as it is their desire to use his vote for their own purposes. Had not the negroes of Tennessee voted as they did, how soon would they have been disfranchised.

The California Election.

The election in California took place last week. The Democratic party elected the Governor, State officers, two of the three Congressmen, and a majority of the Legislature, thus securing the election of a United States Senator. This is a victory for the Democrats—brought about principally by the bad conduct of the Republican leaders. The Republican regular convention was controlled by the corruptionists and they put in nomination for Governor a corrupt man. The honest masses of the party nominated a second candidate, determined that defeat would be more honorable to the party than success with a corrupt man and corrupt party leaders. The Democrats contend they could have succeeded even should the Republicans have had but one candidate. The falling off on the Republican vote was large, thousands not going to the election and others possibly voting the Democratic ticket.

There might be a change in other States—the masses of the people more honest than partisan, get tired of being controlled by corrupt party leaders.

Republican Senatorial Conference.

The Republican conferees of this district met at Lewistown on Friday last. We give the proceedings of the Conference in another column. The conference was well attended by the friends of the several candidates, and "outsiders." Mr. Hall's friends were the most numerous, from the district and from Harrisburg, but the pins were put up against him and they could'nt be knocked down. Mr. McVitty of this county appeared to have the inside track from the commencement of the struggle. All were very favorably impressed with the man. He is a gentleman, and so far as we know a perfectly honest man, with abilities to make a useful Senator. Mr. McVitty is a tanner, carrying on the business extensively in Clay township. Mr. J. K. Robison, the other successful candidate, is a farmer in Juniata county. He was in the service during the war, and has the reputation of being a perfectly honest man.

Both parties have now their candidates in the field—two only can be elected, and as the district is a very close one, the candidates and their friends will have to be busy. Mr. McIntyre of Perry, and Mr. Shugert of Centre, the Democratic candidates, are both good men and will work to succeed.

☞Mistaken—the prominent gentleman who insists that Col. John J. Patterson of Mifflin county has been nominated for the House of Representatives and also for the State Senate.

☞In a late issue the Philadelphia Press asks the question, "Was the war right?" We thought it was during its continuance and still think that the principles which we of the North contended for, were right, and for that reason we, in the beginning of the rebellion linked ourself with the great Union party and endorsed it until the close. Its platform was our platform; its candidates were our candidates, from the President and Vice President down. But the war over, the Union party suddenly transformed itself into the Republican party; the leaders appeared to have other objects in view than the restoration of the Union, the most important of which objects was and is to-day the building up of their party in the Southern States. The more rabid of the leaders, not satisfied with seeing slavery so successfully and happily abolished, are seeking now to elevate the slaves themselves to such a standard that the white man shall be their inferior, politically. This policy we do not and can not endorse. We were satisfied to see the slaves freed, but we are not satisfied to see them made politically the peers of the white man. If this had been made the avowed object of the war we could not have advocated it, nor do we believe that appeals or entreaties nor yet conscription could have filled the Union ranks. In that aspect we would have considered the war wrong, for then it would have been a war of political partisans—the one for, and the other against the negro.

To expect a reconstruction of the Union by building up a certain party is folly. The same spirit which united the Union party during the war must prevail in the ranks of the dominant party of to-day. So long as its leaders look to their own aggrandizement—so long as they look to the success of their party by disfranchising their opponents and enfranchising the negro whom they can induce to vote for them by the object of reward, just so long will that party meet with a steady and increasing opposition. The Union can only be reconstructed by throwing aside all jealousies, all animosities, all rivalries, and all sectionalisms. Who can expect a reconstruction that will be final where the opinions of the people are checked from free expression by the military; and how can the wants of a people be made known where all the avenues through which they might be made known, are hushed and held in subjection?

A war can only be considered right when the principles for which it was fought are practically enforced. If the principles of our recent struggle were to enforce negro supremacy and keep those who fought for the South in subjection, then we are right in doing so now, but if such were not the principles, then we are wrong. The war could not have been fought upon any such principles, and is it not wrong to insult the memories of our fallen heroes, who died "for the Union," by carrying out such a policy? We cannot believe that our living soldiers will agree that they fought for the negro to rule, but the events that have transpired during the last two years, while under the domination of radical mea, point too plainly to this painful conclusion. Had the negro been left out of the reconstruction question, and had the Radicals not been permitted to govern the Union party, all would have been well, but so long as they are allowed to rule, we can have nothing but discord. The war principles were right, but the Radical principles are wrong, and we have tried them long enough to experience that such is the fact.

☞Ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin arrived in New York on Saturday last, from a tour in Europe. His health is greatly improved by the relaxation from the busy scenes and anxious care he underwent while in office. On the 17th inst., he is expected to deliver the address at the dedication of the Antietam National Cemetery.

☞The reform (?) Legislature of last winter is a stumbling block in the way of many progressive politicians.

☞The election in Vermont last week resulted as usual, in favor of the Republicans by a large majority.

The Emperor Napoleon, well known to be a good artillerist, has invented a new field gun. Its power is so great that a single discharge is expected to destroy a battalion. Workmen are busily engaged in manufacturing this weapon. They are locked up day and night, and never allowed to leave the premises, whereof his Majesty himself keeps the key; and the secret is not to be divulged until European complications render prompt action necessary.

It is said that children are decreasing among the Southern colored population. Nomadic habits and uncertain modes of existence render babies burdensome. Marital obligations are not clearly appreciated, and the whole burden of maintaining offspring is imposed upon women least capable of discharging the task. The consequence is, that infants die of neglect.

☞In a recent fight with Indians on the Republican river three whites were killed, and one hundred fifty reds. After the fight was over, the savages sent in a flag of truce, with the following message: "Tell your officers we do not want peace; we are for war; we shall keep on fighting." They then charged our troops again.

The Indians are supplied with nearly all the modern appliances of civilized warfare, even to the use of field glasses.

AMNESTY.

Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, September 8.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, In the month of July, Anno Domini 1861, the two Houses of Congress, with extraordinary unanimity, solemnly declared that the war then existing was not waged on the part of the Government in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor purpose of overthrow or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects should be accomplished the war ought to cease; and, whereas, the President of the United States, on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1863, and on the 26th day of March, A. D., 1864, did, with objects of suppressing the then existing rebellion, of inducing all persons to return to their loyalty, and of restoring the authority of the United States, issue proclamations offering amnesty and pardon to all persons who had directly or indirectly participated in the then existing rebellion, except as in those proclamations was specified and reserved; and, whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, issue a further proclamation with the same objects before mentioned, and to the end that the authority of the Government of the United States might be restored, and that peace, order and freedom might be established, and the President did, by the said last proclamation, proclaim and declare that he thereby granted to all persons who had directly or indirectly participated in the then existing rebellion, except as therein excepted, amnesty and pardon, with the restoration of all rights of property except as to slaves, and except in certain cases where legal proceedings had been instituted, but upon condition that such persons should take and subscribe an oath therein prescribed, which oath should be registered for permanent preservation; and, whereas, in and by said last mentioned proclamation of the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, fourteen extensive clauses of persons therein specially described, were altogether excepted and excluded from the benefits thereof; and, whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 2d day of April, A. D. 1866, issue a proclamation declaring that the insurrection was at an end and was thenceforth to be so regarded; and, whereas, there now exists no organized armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Texas, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority, state or Federal, and the people of said States are well and loyally disposed, and have conformed, and if permitted to do so, will conform in their legislation to the condition of affairs growing out of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting slavery within the limits and jurisdiction of the United States; and, whereas, there no longer exists any reasonable ground to apprehend within the States which were involved in the late rebellion a renewal thereof, or any unlawful resistance by the people of said States to the Constitution and laws of the United States; and whereas, as large standing armies, military occupation, martial law, military tribunals, and the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, and the right of trial of jury, are in time of peace dangerous to public liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizen, contrary to the genius and spirit of our free institutions, and exhaustive of the national resources, and ought not, therefore, to be sanctioned or allowed to except in cases of actual necessity for repelling invasion or suppressing insurrection or rebellion; and, whereas, a retaliatory or vindictive policy, attended by unnecessary disqualifications, pains, penalties, confiscations and disfranchisement, now as always could only tend to hinder reconciliation among the people and National restoration, while it must seriously embarrass, obstruct and repress the popular energies and National industry and enterprise; and, whereas, for these reasons it is now deemed essential to the public welfare and to the more perfect restoration of Constitutional law and order that the said last mentioned proclamation, so as aforesaid issued on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, should be modified, and that the full and beneficent pardon conceded thereby should be opened and further extended to a large number of persons who by its aforesaid exceptions have been hitherto excluded from executive clemency;

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the full pardon described in the said proclamation of the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, shall henceforth be opened and extended to all persons who, directly or indirectly, participated in the late robellion, with the restoration of all privileges, immunities and rights of property except as to property with regard to slaves, and except in cases of legal proceedings under the laws of the United States, but upon this condition, nevertheless, that each person who shall seek to avail himself of this proclamation shall take and subscribe to the following oath, and shall cause the same to be registered for permanent preservation, in the same manner and with the same effect with the oath prescribed in the said proclamation of the 29th day of May, 1865, namely:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) in the presence of Almghty God, that I will henceforth faithfully support, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Union of the Stases thereunder, and that I will in like manner abide by and faithfully support all laws and proclamations that have been made during the late rebellion with reference to the emancipation of slaves, so help me God."

The following persons and no others are excluded from the benefits of this proclamation, and of the said proclamation of the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, namely:

First, The chief or pretended chief executive officers, including the President, Vice President and all heads of departments of the pretended Confederate or rebel government, and all who were agents thereof in foreign States and countries, and all who had or pretended to hold in the service of the said pretended Confederate Government a military rank or title above the grade of brigadier general, and naval rank, or title above that of captain, and all who were or pretended to be Governors of States while maintaining, abetting or submitting to and acquiescing in the rebellion.

Second, All persons who, in any way, treated otherwise than as lawful prisoners of war, persons who, in any capacity, were employed or engaged in the military or naval service of the United States.

Third, All persons who, at the time they may seek to obtain the benefits of this proclamation, are actually in civil, military or naval confinement or custody, or legally held to bail, either before or after conviction, and all persons who were engaged directly or indirectly in the assassination of the late President of the United States, or in any plot of conspiracy in any manner therewith connected.

In testimony whereof, I have signed these presents with my hand, and have caused the seal of the United States to be thereunto affixed.

Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, By the Constitution of the United States the executive power is vested in a President of the United States of America, who is bound by a solomn oath faithfully to execute the office of President, and to the best of his ability preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States, and is by the same instrument made Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of the United States, and is required to take care that the laws be faithfully executed; and whereas, by the same Constitution, it is provided that the said Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby; and whereas, in and by the same Constitution, the judicial power of the United States vested in one Supreme Court and in such inferior courts as Congress may from time to time ordain and establish, and the aforesaid judicial power is declared to extend to all cases in law and equity arising under the Constitution, the laws of the United States, and the treaties which shall be made under their authority; and whereas, all officers, civil and military are bound by oath that they will support and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; and whereas, all officers of the army and navy of the United States, in accepting their commissions under the laws of Congress and the rules and articles of war, incur an obligation to observe, obey, and follow such directions as they shall from time to time receive from the President or the general, or other superior officers set over them, according to the rules and discipline of war; and whereas, it is provided by law that whenever, by reason of obstructions, combinations, or assemblages of persons, or rebellion against the Government of the United States, it shall become impracticable, in the judgment of the President of the United States, to enforce, by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, the laws of the United States within any State or Territory, the Executive in that case is authorized and required to secure their faithful execution by the employment of the land and naval forces; and whereas, impediments and obstructions, serious in their character, have recently been interposed in the States of North Carolina and South Carolina, hindering and preventing, for a time, a proper enforcement there of the laws of the United States and of the judgments and decrees of the lawful courts thereof, in disregard of the command of the reasonable and well founded apprehensions exist that such ill-advised proceedings may be again attempted there or elsewhere—

Now, therefore, I Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby warn all persons against obstructing or interfering, in any manner whatsoever, with the faithful execution of the Constitution and the laws, and command all officers of the Government, civil and military, to render due submission and obedience to the said laws and to the judgments and decrees of the courts of the United States, and to give all the aid in their power necessary to the prompt enforcement and execution of such laws, decrees, judgments and processes.

And I hereby enjoin upon the officers of the army and navy to assist and sustain the courts and other civil authorities of the United States in a faithful administration of the laws thereof, and in the judments, decrees, mandates, and processes of the courts of the United States; and I call upon all good and well disposed citizens of the United States to remember that upon the said Constitution and laws, and upon the judgments, decrees, and processes of the courts, made in accordance with the same, depend the protection of the lives, liberty, and happiness of the people; and I exhort them everywhere to testify their devotion to their country, their pride in its prosperity and greatness, and their determination to uphold its free institutions by a hearty co operation in the efforts of the Government to sustain the authority of the law, to maintain the supremacy of the Federal Constitution, and to preserve unimpaired the integrity of the National Union.

In testimony whereof I have caused the seal to be affixed to these presents, and sign the same with my hand. Done at the city of Washington, the third day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH.
PROCLAMATION.—NOTICE OF GENERAL ELECTION
TO BE HELD ON
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8th, 1867.
Pursuant to an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled "An Act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," approved the second day of July, 1839, I, JAMES F. BATHURST, High Sheriff of the county of Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, do hereby make known and give notice to the electors of the county aforesaid, that an election will be held in the said county of Huntingdon, on the 2d Tuesday after the first Monday of October, (being the 8th day of OCTOBER,) at which time State, District and County officers will be elected, to wit:
One person to fill the office of Supreme Judge of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Two persons to represent the counties of Huntingdon, Blair, Centre, Juniata and Mifflin, in the Senate of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Two persons to represent the counties of Huntingdon, Juniata and Mifflin, in the House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
One person to fill the office of Treasurer of Huntingdon county.
One person to fill the office of County Commissioner of Huntingdon county.
Two persons to fill the office of Jury Commissioner of Huntingdon county.
One person to fill the office of Director of the Poor of Huntingdon county.
Two persons to fill the office of Auditor of Huntingdon county.
In pursuance of said act, I also hereby make known and give notice, that the places of holding the aforesaid special election in the several election districts within the said county of Huntingdon, are as follows, to wit:
1st district, composed of the township of Henderson, at the Union School House.
2d district, composed of Dublin township, at Pleasant Hill School House, near Joseph Nebose's, in said township.
3d district, composed of so much of Warriorsmark township, as is not included in the 10th district, at the school house adjoining the town of Warriorsmark.
4th district, composed of the township of Hopewell, at Rough and Ready Furnace.
5th district, composed of the township of Barree, at the house of James Livingston, in the town of Saulsburg, in said township.
6th district, composed of the borough of Shirleysburg, and all that part of the township of Shirley not included within the limits of District No. 24, as hereinafter mentioned and described, at the house of David Fraker, dec'd, in Shirleysburg.
7th district, composed of Porter and part of Walker township, and so much of West township as is included in the following boundaries, to wit: Beginning at the south-west corner of Tobias Caufman's Farm on the bank of the Little Juniata river, to the lower end of Jackson's narrows, thence in a northwesterly direction to the most southerly part of the farm owned by Michael Maguire, thence north 40 degrees west to the top of Tussey's mountain to intersect the line of Franklin township, thence along the said line to Little Juniata river, thence down the same to the place of beginning, at the public school house opposite the German Reformed Church, in the borough of Alexandria.
8th district, composed of the township of Franklin, at the house of Geo. W. Mattern, in said township.
9th district, composed of Tell township, at the Union school house, near the Union Meeting house, in said twp.
10th district, composed of Springfield township, at the school house, near Hugh Anderson's, in said township.
11th district, composed of Union township, at the school house, near Ezekiel Corbin's, in said township.
12th district, composed of Brady township, at the Centre school house, in said township.
13th district, composed of Morris township, at public school house No. 2, in said township.
14th district, composed of that part of West township not included in 7th and 20th districts, at the public school house on the farm now owned by Miles Lewis, (formerly owned by James Ennis,) in said township.
15th district, composed of Walker township, at the house of Benjamin Magsby, in M'Connellstown.
16th district, composed of the township of Tod, at the Green school house, in said township.
17th district, composed of Oneida township, at the house of Wm. D. Rankin, Warm Springs.
18th district, composed of Cromwell township, at the house now occupied by David Etnire, in Orbisonia.
19th district, composed of the borough of Birmingham, with the several tracts of land near to and attached to the same, now owned and occupied by Thomas M. Owens, John E. McCahen, Andrew Robeson, John Gensimer and Wm. Gensimer, and the tract of land now owned by George and John Shoenberger, known as the Porter tract, situate in the township of Warriorsmark, at the public school house in said borough.
20th district, composed of the township of Cass, at the public school house in Cassville, in said township.
21st district, composed of the township of Jackson, at the public house of Edward Little, at McAlevy's Fort, in said township.
22d district, composed of the township of Penn, at the public school house in Marklesburg, in said township.
24th district, composed and created as follows, to wit:—That all that part of Shirley township, Huntingdon county, lying and being within the following described boundaries, namely: beginning at the intersection of Union and Shirley township lines with the Juniata river, on the south side thereof; thence along said Union township line for the distance of three miles from said river; thence eastwardly, by a straight line, to the point where the main from Eby's mill to Germany valley, crosses the summit of Sandy ridge; thence northwardly along the summit of Sandy ridge to the river Juniata, and thence up said river to the place of beginning, shall hereafter form a separate election district; that the qualified voters of said election district shall hereafter hold their general and township elections in the public school house in Mount Union, in said district.
25th district, composed of the borough of Huntingdon, at the Court House in said borough. Those parts of Walker and Porter townships, beginning at the southern end of the bridge across the Juniata river at the foot of Montgomery street, thence by the Juniata township line to the line of the Walker election district, thence by the same to the corner of Porter township at the Woodcock Valley road near Eer's school house, thence by the line between Walker and Porter townships, to the summit of the Warrior ridge, thence along said ridge to the Juniata river so as to include the dwelling-house at Whittaker's, now Fleher's old mill, and thence down said river to the place of beginning, to annexed to the Huntingdon Borough election district, and that the inhabitants thereof shall and may vote at all general elections.

I also make known and give notice, as in and by the 13th section of the aforesaid act I am directed, that "every person, excepting justices of the peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of this State, or of any city or corporated district, whether a commissioned officer or agent, who is or shall be employed under the legislative, executive or judiciary department of this State, or of the United States, or of any city or incorporated district, and also, that every member of Congress, and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, commissioners of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time, the office or appointment of judge, inspector or clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no inspector or judge, or other officer of any such election shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for."
Also, that in the 4th section of the Act of Assembly, entitled "An Act relating to executions and for other purposes," approved April 16th, 1840, it is enacted that the aforesaid 13th section "shall not be so construed as to prevent any militia or borough officer from serving as Judge, or inspector or clerk of any general or special election in this Commonwealth."
In accordance with the provision of the 8th section of said act, I do hereby declare and make known that all elections hereafter to be held in this Commonwealth, it shall be unlawful for the Judge or Inspectors of any such election to receive any ballot or ballots from any person or persons embraced in the provisions and subject to the disability imposed by said act of Congress approved March 3d, 1865, and it shall be unlawful for any such person to offer to vote any ballot or ballots.
And I do hereby charge and command the inspectors of election, or any one of them shall receive or consent to receive any such unlawful ballot or ballots from any such disqualified person, he or they so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions of this commonwealth, he shall for each offence, be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment in the jail of the proper county for not less than sixty days.
Sec. 3. That if any person deprived of citizenship, and disqualified as aforesaid, shall, at any election hereafter to be held in this commonwealth, vote, or tender to the officers thereof, and offer to vote, a ballot or ballots, any person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions of this commonwealth, shall for each offence be punished in like manner as is provided in the preceding section of this act in case of officers of election receiving any such unlawful ballot or ballots.
SECTION 4. That if any person shall hereafter personate or attempt to personate any person, deprived of citizenship or disqualified as aforesaid, to offer any ballot or ballots at the aforesaid election hereafter to be held in this Commonwealth, or shall personate, or advise, any such officer to receive any ballot, or ballots, from any person deprived of citizenship, and disqualified as aforesaid, such person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, shall be punished in like manner is provided in the second section of this act in the case of officers of such election receiving such unlawful ballot or ballots.
Particular attention is directed to the first section of the Act of Assembly, passed the 30th day of March A. D., 1866, entitled "An Act regulating the manner of Voting at all Elections, in the several counties of this Commonwealth;"
"That the qualified voters of the several counties of this Commonwealth, at all general, township, borough and special elections, are hereby, hereafter, authorized and required to vote, by tickets, printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, severally classified as follows: One ticket shall embrace the names of all judges of courts voted for, and be labelled outside "Judiciary;" one ticket shall embrace all the names of State officers voted for, and be labelled "State;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all county officers voted for, including office of Senator, member, and members of Assembly, if voted for, and members of Congress, if voted for, and labelled "County;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all township officers voted for, and be labelled "township;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all borough officers voted for, and be labelled "borough;" and each class shall be deposited in separate ballot boxes."
Pursuant to the provisions contained in the 67th section of the act aforesaid, the judges of the aforesaid districts shall respectively take charge of the certificate or return of the election of their respective districts, and produce them at a meeting of one of the judges from each district in the county of Huntingdon, at the house in charge by one of the inspectors or clerks of the election of said district, and shall do and perform the duties required of said Judge unable to attend.
Also, that in the 61st section of said act it is enacted that "every general and special election shall be opened between the hours of eight and ten in the forenoon, and shall continue without intermission or adjournment until seven o'clk. in the evening, when the polls shall be closed."
Given under my hand, at Huntingdon, the 10th day of Sept., A. D. 1867, and of the independence of the United States, the ninety-first.

Brief Items.

—Blair county holds no Fair this year. The people are all coming to Huntingdon.

—Juniata county will hold its annual Fair at Perrysville, on the 9th, 10th and 11th of October.

—A change of schedule has been made on the Broad Top railroad. See schedule in another column.

—Mr. Jackson White has our thanks for a large present of honey in the comb. We hope his bees may never tire.

—As we are to be a judge of poultry at the next fair, we want to see a large display, especially of the mixed cross breeds, the most profitable stock.

—On Tuesday last Miss Sarah Stuart living with Mr. Olmes, in Gaysport, Blair county, burst a blood vessel and fell over dead whilst milking the cow.

—A man named William Finney, residing in Harrisburg, had to pay thirty-five dollars and cost of prosecution, for shooting a dog in the street.

—On Tuesday last, George, a son of Mr. Uriah Lewis, of this place, was kicked on the arm by a colt, in a field below town. No bones were broken.

—Blair county has now seven newspapers. What an appreciative community they must have. Singular to state all but three know no politics.

—The barn of Col. John McDowell, deceased, in Armagh township, Mifflin county, was struck by lightning on Wednesday, and with nearly all its contents consumed.

—Arrangements are making to have several star games of base ball during the Fair. Some of the best clubs from a distance will be on hand. The prize is a set of balls and bats.

—The bill on Washington street near Muddy run, has been leveled, thereby increasing travel on said street, and enhancing its prospects for the future. It is the central street.

—Eyre & Landell, 4th & Arch Sts., Philadelphia, are now offering a large stock of Fall Goods to purchasers. This is an old establishment and reliable Dry Goods House ! Read adv.

—Our town gallants are practising for the prize to be given at the tournament. We think it will be an unfair show unless some of our country Ivanhoes contend for the victor's crown.

—The hack-men, we think, are doing a flourishing business running to and from the colored camp meeting—There are plenty of conveyances, of all shapes, styles and sizes, but unfortunately a very poor road to travel on.

—Lot owners who have failed to come up to the requirements of the borough ordinance in regard to paving, will find something interesting and of advantage to them, in our advertising columns to-day.

—The Mifflin County Poor House Farm was sold on Wednesday last, to Alexander Morrison and David Weiler, both of Union township, for $125.20 per acre. The farm embraces 204 acres and 19 perches.

—Burchinell's planing mill is a business place. It is the place to drive away the idea of dull times. The work turned out is perfect—couldn't be otherwise, for the mill is said to be one of the best in the State—perhaps the best in many respects.

—Judge Pearson, of the Dauphin county court, has decided that the mere placing of a fish basket and dam in the river is a violation of the law, and a failure to remove such obstructions, would render their owner liable to prosecution, and subject him to penalties imposed by the law.

—We have received the first number of the Tyrone Bulletin, published by M. H. Jolly. It is a neat "table ornament," gotten up in good workmanlike style, and promises to be of use in promoting the business interests of that community. We hope its Jolly editor may meet with success.

—The election in Altoona, on Saturday, to decide the question for or against the purchase of steam fire apparatus, was a failure, and now the subject is dropped, until, as the Tribune intimates, "we have another conflagration, after which we shall expect a few spasmodic throes in favor of fire apparatus, and—that's all."

Langstroth's Bee Hive.

We ask attention to advertisement of Langstroth's Patent Bee Hive, in another column. Several are in use in this neighborhood and are said to be decidedly the best in use. Everybody, especially every farmer, could have bees and make money more easily than with anything else. We advise those who keep or want to keep bees to secure a right to use the patent hive.

The Premium List.

The premium list for the Fair will be found in to-day's Globe. It is heavy. We advise everybody to read it, and then determine to take some of the premiums. The ground selected for the Fair's the large field of Gen. Wilson, on Stone Creek, in the lower end of the town. The committee is already fitting up the ground.

Republican Senatorial Conference.

On motion the Conference organized by the election of Hon. John Scott, of Huntingdon, as Chairman, A. B. Hutchison, of Centre, and H. H. Bechtel, of Juniata, were chosen Secretaries.

The following Conferees were present;

Blair county—A. S. Morrow, B. L. Hewitt, Wm. M. Lloyd.

Centre county—A. R. Barlow, J. B. Ettele, A. B. Hutchison.

Huntingdon county—Hon. John Scott, Wm. B. Leas, J. Alfred Shade.

Juniata county—J. J. Patterson, F. M. Mickey, H. H. Bechtol.

Mifflin county—J. M. Brown, M. Buoy, A. Troxel.

Perry county—Samuel Roath, Langdeom Wistar, Samuel Lupfer.

The following resolutions were presented, and after the delegates had presented the names of the various candidates, were adopted:

Resolved, That this Conference representing the Republicans of this District, heartily endorse the Platform adopted by our State Judicial Convention, at Williamsport.

Resolved, That the industrial interests of this Senatorial District, demand the passage of a free Railroad Law and the regulation by law of local freights on all the Railroads in the State on the pro rata per mile through basis, with a just percentage added for short distances, and in such manner as to prevent all discrimination as between individuals, or individuals and companies either in freight or passage.

Resolved, That the Nominees of this Conference are hereby required to pledge themselves if elected, to use their influence and votes to secure the passage of laws in accordance with the above resolutions.

All the candidates named, having pledged themselves to support the above resolutions, the Conference proceeded to ballot viva voce for a candidate for Senator. On the first ballot.

Samuel McVitty.	4
L. W. Hall.	5
D. W. Woods.	3
J. K. Robison.	3
William P. Wilson,	3

Thirty-five ballots having been had with results varying in the case of each candidate from one vote to six, the thirty-sixth resulted as follows:

McVitty.	10
Hall.	5
Woods.	3

Samuel McVitty, having a majority of all the votes cast, was declared the nominee by the unanimous vote of the Conference.

Thirty-seventh ballot:

Hall.	5
Woods.	3
Robison.	10

Col. John K. Robison being declared duly nominated, the nomination was made unanimous.

On motion the Conference adjourned sine die.

Attend the Fair.

The Huntingdon county Agricultural Fair will be held in Huntingdon, on the 2d, 3d, and 4th of October, prox. The grounds are being placed in good condition and every arrangement conducive to the convenience and comfort of exhibitors have been made. The list of prizes is to be quite liberal and farmers, gardeners and horticulturists will do well to be represented. That excellent monthly, the American Agriculturist, thus addresses its readers:

"Save time to attend the Fairs; and be sure to take or send something to help the show. Have it in the best possible order, and don't expect so confidently to get the prize as to be made uncomfortable if you lose it. It is no shame to be beaten, but it would be shameful for a poor article to take a prize over a better one. Therefore, rejoice that something more excellent than your's could be raised and that raiser brought it. A good part of your reward should be in having contributed to make a fine show. A man seldom gains credit to himself by declaring openly that things he has, at home, are much better than those exhibited. Such statements, if made, should be said privately and generally in self condemnation for not having brought the articles. The unsuccessful competitor seldom gains more than unenviable notoriety by openly impugning the motives of judges.

"Every one is happy to receive prizes, and the hope that he may, is a great inducement to present articles in competition. The honor and credit should count for much, the money for very little, and really the unselfish motive of contributing to make a fine show, should be the chief inducement to exert one's self to the fair. An exhibitor going to the fair with these feelings will not leave his wagon loads of fruit, vegetables and dairy products outside, while he searches through the exhibition tables to find out if he will be morally certain of the prizes, before he decides to exhibit. There is nothing criminal in this, but it is certainly not honorable and commendable.

Colored Campmeeting.

The camp meeting of the colored M. E. church is still in progress, and meeting with some success. The tents are pitched about a mile from town, near McCahan's grove. Many persons were present from a distance, and we understood that Lewistown, Tyrone and Bellefonte were represented. On Sunday last, as is customary, the crowd of visitors was greatest, and the hackmen were kept busy, and the horses busier. The order during the day was pretty good, but during the evening it could have been better, if some of the white spectators had observed the rules, or used a little common sense.—The meeting will close on Thursday, we believe.

☞ A. B. Cunningham having bought one-half of the First National Store of Rohm & Miller, the firm is desirous of closing the goods out regardless of cost, until the County Fair, (Oct. 2d,) when they will sell the remainder at auction. 3t. ROHM & CUNNINGHAM.

WANTED.

500 Agents to canvass for a work entitled "Nojoque," written by Hinton R. Helper, author of the "Impending Crisis of the South." The object of the work is to show the great distinction between the white and black races. He denounces negro political and social equality, and says he can no longer act with a party that would willingly destroy the great line of distinction between the white and black races which God himself has established. Every person should secure a copy of this work.

UNITED STATES
Authorized WAR CLAIM AGENCY
HUNTINGDON, PA.

SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war, for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmarried; 2d. To the children; 3d. To the parents, if both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th, To the brothers and sisters.

COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,

The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $300 Commutation Money, where the same person was again drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the

$100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY

to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges

All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Timely Hints for September.

From the American Agriculturist we make up our hints for the present month as follows:

September is a happy month; it brings the golden fruits of the orchard, and the golden corn ripens under the autumnal suns. There is too, a harvest of greenbacks—no gold now-a-days—which September usually yields to those who have early crops to sell. During this month the prices of grain in Europe become settled, ordinarily. They may be such as to excite speculation, or the prices here may quietly settle down to what we may consider about remunerative values.

There is a greater variety of labors to employ farmers in September than perhaps in any other month. We have manuring, plowing, sowing and harvesting, thrashing, feeding, marketing, all upon us at once, yet the labors are seldom pressing and of an anxious kind, except perhaps little anxiety in regard to early frosts.

Animals, in general, need little care, except good pasturage or feeding. Fattening bullocks that are to be finished off for the autumn trade need a gradual increase of meal as the weather grows cooler. Sheep, also, that are to be sold, should be separated from others and fed a little grain. Examine any that it may be necessary to have in moist pastures to check the very first appearance of foot rot. Shelter all during storms, and give access to water and salt. Swine, to be fattened this fall, will do much better if fed a little old corn ground now while at grass, or being kept on this swill, as is usual.

Orchard fruit collect frequently, not only for feeding swine and cows, but in order to destroy the insects which sting the fruit at the time of laying their eggs, and to prevent the development of the larvæ which causes it to become gnarly and drop, prematurely ripe, or even green. Much good cider for vinegar may be made from windfalls.

Root Crops.—All kind of root crops having become well established and full of leaf, keep on growing until freezing weather, and often swell with prodigious rapidly, as the season becomes moister and cooler. Keep the weeds down and the ground open and loose, and pull for cow feed wherever they stand too thick.

Beans.—Pull before the ripened pods dry, and lay them up to ripen in small heaps, or better, between two stakes driven perpendicularly about five or six inches apart. The plants being laid alternately heads and roots—at the same time crosswise.

Grass and Clover Seeding may be done now upon land which is in ordor to be laid down, to very good advantage, provided we have rains. If the grass and clover can get a start this fall, so as to make an approximation to a sward, they will stand the winter well and if the land is rich, be fit to mow next year. If not rich, the clover may be fed off in June, but not close, and cut for seed in the fall. Timothy sowed now and getting a good start of all other accidental grass on a good land, often yields a fine crop for two years in succession. If you need the grain or straw, sow it, but if you want grass, sow that.

Wheat.—Too much stress cannot be given to having wheat land well prepared—drained, rich, and mellow, also free from weeds, if possible. Sow during this month—the earlier the better. Drill rather than sow broadcast, and put the seed deep rather than shallow on all light soils.

Rye.—It is generally best to sow rye in the early part of October, as it often gets too much growth before ground freezes if sown earlier.

Vermin in Granaries.—Arrange to have security from mice and rats. Rats will generally clear out mice and may themselves be gotten rid of only by the phosphorous paste which is safe poison if the poultry are shut up and kept so for several weeks. The rats vomit up the poison, and the chickens eat it and die. The poison kills a few, but stampedes the vermin. Mice are not so affected; a few die, the rest remain. Use traps and cats; give the cat a sand box and punish her severely if she does not use it. A good mouser, and well trained, is almost invaluable.

Potatoes.—At the East the season has been such as to rot potatoes in some places very much. After the vines die or are thoroughly blighted, the tubers will make but little growth. They are fit for swine, but not for market. Yet many are perfectly good. It is sometimes best to dig and feed them to pigs or cattle before they rot. If left in the ground the sound ones will remain good, while most of the diseased ones will become so bad that they may be detected at glance. This, it is claimed, is a great saving of labor in picking over potatoes that rot in the bin; besides, the sound ones are not contaminated, and so more sound ones will finally be saved.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who tell he happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

may 31, 1865. FRANCIS B. WALLACE.

PROF. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Agua in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Ulver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all those complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an achoer pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, appliable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.

J. H. McENTYRE,
Proprietor, Reading, Pa.

For sale at Lewis' Book Store.

Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 6, 1865.

McENTYRE'S

DANDELION PILLS,

For all diseases arising from one cause, viz: Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Catarrh in the Head, Weak and disordered Stomach, such as Indigestion, Sick Headache, Giddiness of the Head, Weakness of Sight, Windy Ailments, Rheumatism, and Rheumatic Pains, Pains in the Back or Side, Nervous Debility, Lowness of Spirits, Impurity of the Blood, Blotches or Eruptions of the Body, Gravel, Worms, &c., &c. Sold at 25 cents per box.

McENTYRE'S

INDIAN VEGETABLE

WORM DESTROYER.

This infallible medicine is warranted to expel worms in all cases and may be given to children of all ages, as they are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless.

This Billiard Room challenges comparison with any room in the State, west of Philadelphia.

No more Bald Heads!

No more Gray Locks!

DR. LEON'S

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and specially restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxurance.

It operates on the scrotilus and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal.—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States. Address all orders to
